

WATSON CLINIC_{LLP}

NOW OFFERING

Pediatric COVID-19 VACCINES

Watson Clinic is now administering Pfizer COVID-19 vaccines to qualifying pediatric patients 6 months to 4 years of age.

These vaccines are given as a three dose series.

The COVID-19 shot may cause minor side effects in some children and teens including pain, redness or swelling on the arm where your child got the shot, tiredness, headache, muscle pain, chills, fever and nausea. If your child experiences any of these side effects, you should ask their pediatrician for tips or non-aspirin medications that might be useful.

Please note that these COVID-19 vaccines may not fully protect you until one to two weeks after you receive your third shot. It takes time for your body to build antibody protection after any vaccination.
