

Recognizing the signs of Hearing Loss

If you answer "YES" to any of the following questions, you should have an audiologist evaluate your hearing.

1. Do you often ask people to repeat themselves?
2. Do others suggest that you have a hearing problem?
3. Do you have difficulty hearing on the telephone?
4. Do you turn the volume of the TV or radio louder than others?
5. Have you ever been exposed to loud noises?
6. Do you hear any noises or ringing in your ears?

Hearing Evaluations Backed by Experience

Comprehensive hearing evaluations at the Hearing Center are performed by our highly qualified providers.

With decades of experience and Doctorate degrees in audiology, our Hearing Center team works to evaluate and assess the nature and degree of your hearing loss. If your condition requires medical attention, the board-certified otolaryngologists (ENT physicians) in our office are available to see you by appointment.

Community Programs & Services

The Hearing Center offers educational programs throughout the communities we serve.

Members of our professional staff provide complimentary lectures and educational programs upon request. We welcome the opportunity to meet and discuss hearing issues with your local group or organization.

A Broad Selection of Hearing Aids

At the Hearing Center, we recognize that no two hearing problems are the same. Therefore, we offer a full line of digital hearing aids and assistive listening technologies. Our goal is to help patients select the amplification systems most appropriate for their needs.

Our providers work with each patient to ensure proper fit and maximum benefit.

Our Commitment to Patient Satisfaction

We are strongly committed to patient satisfaction. To demonstrate this commitment, we offer a full 30-day trial period on all hearing aids, exclusive of professional fitting fees. Our providers will discuss this guarantee with you at the time of your purchase.

For your convenience, we also have financing options available.
